Yolo offering Spah-cation

GUILFORD, CT (April 30, 2011)– As summer approaches and vacation planning is in the air, we all want to be sitting on a beach instead of a fluorescent-lit cubicle, but traveling halfway around the world isn't always an option or even driving very far, with the increase in gas prices.

Newly renovated, Yolo Laser Center & Med Spa's globally inspired menu makes summer easy and enjoyable by enjoying the islands and other destinations across the globe with a Spah-cation inspired series of spa treatments. The luxurious spa is now offering a series of culturally-inspired treatments from around the world that will take guests on a global spa journey and back home to Connecticut throughout the course of a summer.

Owner Nikki Rasmussen states, "Living on the beautiful Connecticut shoreline, I find it difficult to leave during the summer, as there is so much to do right here." Nikki continued, "Many people are choosing to stay within Connecticut or visit from surrounding states for their "staycation" and I wanted to offer them a rejuvenating experience closer to home."

Spah-cationers can choose a day package that includes a catered lunch, or an extended trip that includes monthly visits to different destinations.

One journey involves a trip through the Himalayans to enjoy a delicious body treatment that includes mineral salts blended with oils from Tibet and Nepal. These exotic salts polish and nourish the skin. Then take a puddle jump and enjoy our Ahoy Mate Facial that will polish your skin to a healthy glow, and next get ready for your coastal Shellac manicure. Shellac is a gel polish with a no-smudge mirror finish that lasts up to two weeks. Lastly, get bronzed with our customized airbrush tan.

"We also have couples journeys and can customize a journey based on an individual's desires", states Nikki.

Spah-cationers can call 203-533-4560 to reserve their journey. For your lodging needs, please contact Baymont Inn & Suites 203-488-4991, Branford, CT.
